

Blue Man Group is one of those bands that has been around for a few decades now. They have been around so long however, that they were pioneers of the multimedia art performance and became one of the most famous and recognizable bands in recent history. Not only did their band become well known across America, but because this comes as no surprise, Blue Man Group tour dates are sold out for years at a time. With an ever increasing fan base and number of performances under their belt, Blue Man Group has seen itself make money like you wouldn't believe. With such a huge fan base, one would think that Blue Man Group concerts are very expensive. Although they are, if you know where to look and how to live like a rock star you can see Blue Man Group tickets for nothing or for very little money.
